A town silenced

Councillors 'incensed' as opinion and criticism over plans for the future of Haverhill are not sent off to planning inspector

PLANS to take Haverhill into the next two decades have gone on to the next step – but without the many objections and local comments being noted.

Vision 2031 plans for the town were widely criticised, with some people even branding it “a big dose of housing, and nothing more”.

Objections to the plans were submitted by residents and officials across Haverhill, but Vision 2031 has now been taken forward to the next step with no notice of these amendments.

Since the beginning, county councillor Tony Brown, who represents Haverhill East and Kedington, has been against the plans, claiming that they do not support the rising population.

The UKIP councillor says he is “gob-smacked” that these objections have not been sent on.

He said: “A lot of people spent a lot of time collecting what the town wanted and fighting for a better Vision 2031 and as soon as it's gone out of the town, they have just put forward their own version and left our feelings out of it.”

Members of the Sustainable Development Working Party on St Edmundsbury Borough Council have passed the original submissions of the documents through, without taking notice of Cllr Brown's, or Haverhill Town Council's, objections.

Some of these called for a revamp of the dwindling High Street and a much-needed rail link between Haverhill and Cambridge.

Deputy Mayor Cllr Maureen Byrne said: “We are incensed with this.”

DEBRA FOX

“Haverhill Town Council and councillors spent months talking to residents and campaigning groups about how Vision 2031 could be improved.”

Borough councillor Karen Richardson, who represents Haverhill East, has come under fire as the chairwoman of the Sustainable Development Working Party, as well as the Haverhill Area Working Party. Both groups failed to flag up some key issues in the plans.

Cllr Richardson was unavailable for comment.

A spokeswoman for St Edmundsbury Borough Council said that the Vision 2031 documents are now moving to the next stage, which involves submitting the documents to the Secretary of State for formal examination by an independent Planning Inspector.

She said: “The inspector will then receive all the comments submitted during the consultation period and the examination will focus on whether the document is legally compliant and sound.”

“If the inspector believes something needs more discussion, based on comments received during the final June–August consultation, he or she will issue an invitation to those concerned with the issue to a hearing.”

New era for town as special school opens

DEBRA FOX

EDUCATION in Haverhill has taken a step forward, with the first intake of pupils arriving at the town's new school for children with additional needs.

The Churchill School, which is on the site of Samuel Ward Academy, Chalkstone Way, opened its doors last week to welcome in students for the new term.

Designed to help pupils with language and communication difficulties, as well as the those on the autism spectrum, Churchill is the first of its kind in Haverhill, and plans are already in place to expand.

The school welcomed in a small induction of children earlier this month and will grow to accommodate more over the next three years.

New staff have been appointed to serve the school, including headteacher Georgina Ellis.

Mrs Ellis said: "This is a much needed resource which will provide high standards for all pupils and enable them to make good progress."

The calm learning environment at the school will make education easier for those with special needs.

Parent Karmel Stannard, who has a child at Churchill, said that the calming environment is perfect for those suffering from autism.

Karmel said: "There is a desperate need for a special educational needs schools like Churchill."

"High functioning children with autistic spectrum conditions have sensory issues and noisy, densely populated schools can be very distressing for them."

"The fact that they also have social communication difficulties can mean they are vulnerable and their behaviour can be misinterpreted as rudeness and lead to them being bullied or excluded from social groups."

Executive Principal of Samuel Ward Howard Lay has said that schools working in partnership is the best way to preserve a future.

He said: "It is a special day for Haverhill; for too long pupils with particular needs have had to travel too far for their education."

"They can now have an excellent education locally and I am delighted that the community, Samuel Ward Trust and the Department of Education have made this possible."

"Churchill has an exciting future as a groundbreaking and innovative model for special educational needs."

PURRFECT: These cats are all looking for a loving home.

Could you take a chance on a homeless black cat?

THESE 'unlucky' cats are in desperate need of some good fortune.

Seven black kittens and two females are currently waiting for a new home in Haverhill - but their bad reputation could be putting people off.

Some of the cheeky cats have been in the care of the Haverhill and Stour Valley branch of the Cats Protection for six months.

By this time, cats have normally been re-homed or they are moved on to another branch for a change of scene.

Kittens Astin, Dottie, Finn, Kitty, Lettie, Lottie and Tumble and mother cats Molls and Belle make up the majority of the charity's current intake.

Maria Connolly, branch co-ordinator, said that black cat prejudice dates back to the 1300s.

She said: "When we start looking back in history we see the amount of black cats who have been persecuted. They were nearly wiped out."

"If you had a black cat during the Middle Ages it would have been killed."

Maria, who has six cats of her own, said that all black, or black and white cats are the ones most commonly left behind.

"I think it has something to do with the cuteness", she said.

"People think they aren't as pretty as the coloured ones but I think they look very elegant."

The Haverhill and Stour Valley branch only has five volunteer foster carers, who look after the cats in their own homes.

The team has rehomed 31 cats so far this year and would love to send their current guests to loving owners too.

Maria said: "They're lovely cats. Kitty is very affectionate."

A tasty celebration for nursery, as it turns 11

A NURSERY held a week-long celebration in honour of a double-digit birthday.

Dizzy's Day Nursery, in Hollands Road, Haverhill, invited parents and children to join in the fun and indulge in party days, bouncy castles, face painting and ice cream.

Budding bakers were asked to enter a birthday cake into a tasty competition, held on September 19, for the chance to win first, second or third prize.

Three-year-old Holly Eden and her family took the biscuit, and were awarded a £20 voucher from bespoke bakery Beautiful Tiers, a certificate and a Dizzy's prize pack.

Dizzy's Day Nursery was opened by Liz Nunn in 2002, and turned 11 this month.

She said: "I am incredibly proud of the nursery's success and the commitment of my team, who work so hard."

"We have a real family approach at Dizzy's to ensure that everyone feels actively part of the nursery."

"I am proud of the excellent reputation we have built as a community nursery that offers the best care and learning for children and a variety of services for families. I am very much looking forward to the next 11 years."

For further information about the nursery or to arrange a visit please contact Liz Nunn on info@dizzysdaynursery.co.uk or 01440 706246.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Open day for new term

PROSPECTIVE parents and children can get a head start on primary school with an open day. Kedington Primary School, on Church Walk, is inviting children born between September 1, 2009 and August 31, 2010 to visit the school on October 4 from 9.30-4pm. The event is for those starting school in September 2014.

Fight against flu in county clinics

WINTER is just around the corner, and Suffolk is preparing for the cold weather with flu clinics.

The West Suffolk Clinical Commissioning Group will contact all eligible patients to attend a session near them.

Christmas Maltings, Clements Christmas Maltings and Stour View surgeries in Haverhill are offering flu jabs.

Contact the clinics directly for an appointment.

Celebrate harvest season in style

PARISHIONERS are being invited to give thanks at an annual harvest celebration.

St Mary's Church on Mill Road, Haverhill, and Church Street, Withersfield, will hold a joint event in honour of the season.

A eucharist and lunch will take place at the Haverhill Church from 11am and songs of praise will start in Withersfield at 6pm.

Big diabetes collection Tesco

A SUPERMARKET in Haverhill is taking part in a national collection for Diabetes UK.

Tesco, on Cangle Road, is fundraising for the charity on October 4, 5 and 6.

Volunteers are needed to cover shifts across the weekend, contact Chris Turk, volunteer team leader for Haverhill, on 01787 238341.

Schoolchildren to design town clock

BUDDING young artists will be putting pen to paper to design Haverhill's new town clock.

Pupils at the town's primary and secondary schools have been chosen as the masterminds for the proposed feature.

As the Weekly News previously reported, Haverhill Town Council decided to take on the task of providing a new clock in the town centre.

The decision was made at the Leisure and Community committee meeting on September 17. Town Clerk Will Austin said: "We are keen to make sure that all the schools are involved."

"It's a good community project, but we hope it will be a statement piece of art which is also a useful addition to the town centre."

Neil Williams, head of art and design at Samuel Ward Academy, has been appointed to lead the children through the design process and collate ideas from all of the schools.

DEBRA FOX

Despite only starting to plan last week, Mr Williams and his team of students already have plenty of ideas for the town's new feature.

He said: "We're going to create a bespoke work of art which will be highly decorative and very ornate."

"We want to be able to give the town something that looks like it's cost a lot, but has really cost nothing."

"We want the public to go 'wow'."

Mr Williams explained that the clock will be made mostly from low-cost stainless steel, which is easy to manage for the students.

Each of the town's schools will present their own ideas for the clock, and they will be narrowed down to the final choice.

Mr Williams said: "It's the most exciting project we have potentially been involved in."

A location for the new time-piece has not been decided yet, but Mr Austin has confirmed it will be in sight of the bus station and the High Street.

The town's old clock, in Jubilee Walk, was removed for repair and never replaced.

When it was revealed that current plans for a clock seemed on hold until the installation of real time passenger information in 2015, the town council intervened.

Workshops are set to take place at Samuel Ward Academy every Sunday.

Event planned to mark Haverhill's part in World War 1

A COMMEMORATIVE event will be held to honour Haverhill's part in the First World War.

A centenary celebration will take place in town next year, to coincide with the start of the four-year war.

Haverhill Town Council is already looking at ways to involve the whole town community in the remembrance.

The town council are working with the Haverhill History Group – currently a town-wide poppy planting is one of the ideas.

Town Clerk Will Austin said: "Whatever we do, we aim to give the commemoration a local flavour and make it relevant to the local community."

"We want to look at how it changed and shaped the town over those four years."

TEDDY BEAR FUN: The children at Stepping Stones with their bears.

If you go down to the woods today

A COLLECTION of favourite teddy bears joined their owners for a pre-school charity picnic.

Children from Stepping Stones pre-school, based at Coupals Primary, Haverhill, headed to East Town Park on September 20 to do their bit for Jeans for Genes.

The young pupils donated £1 each to the charity, which supports children with genetic disorders, to take part in the picnic.

After a morning in the woods with their furry friends, the Stepping Stones team returned to school and decorated some bear biscuits, dressing them in blue icing jeans.

Tatty Teddy key rings were also for sale on the day, for £1.50 each. They raised £30 in total.

Manager Elaine McManus said: "It was absolutely brilliant and the kids did really well."

Key rings are still available for purchase at the pre-school, on Chalkstone Way. For more information visit www.jeansforgenesday.org

Oh what fun we had this summer!

THOUSANDS of visitors, volunteers and businesses combined to make for the busiest summer of fun Haverhill has ever seen.

Open air concerts, fun days and a jam-packed Summer Bash all brought the crowds to town - and plans are already in place to top this in 2014.

An estimated 21,000 people took advantage of Haverhill's fun-filled events programme which opened with the annual transport rally on July 14, and ended with a fun day, organised by the Parkway residents' association on August 21.

Pensioners, parents and schoolchildren alike were all catered for with the varied range of events - which all went ahead free of charge due to the work of Haverhill Town Council and partnering organisations.

The Summer Bash, held on July 21, attracted the largest number of visitors with 7,000 people flocking to the recreation ground for a day of traditional fun and enjoyable performances.

Following its debut success, which raised a final total of £3,500 for local charities, the event has been extended to last two days next year.

The money was shared between Lamp H, the town's scouts and guides, and the food bank.

Other summer events included fun days at The New Croft and Puddlebrook Playing Fields, and a tribute to Take That, One Direction and Girls Aloud - attended by 2,500 people.

Councillor Pat Hanlon, Chair of the Council's Leisure and Community Committee, praised the work of all involved in the first bash, and started looking forward to next year.

He said: "This was a wonderful new event for Haverhill, with business and the community combining to deliver a fabulous show which raised significant funds for local organisations.

"Having helped businesses with planning, stewarding and finance this year, we're confident that they'll be in a good position to take the event forward in 2014, but of course we'll still be there to help."

Lamp H was the show's main beneficiary, and received £2,000 of the money.

The Headquarters Rebuilding Fund for Haverhill's scouts and guides and the foodbank received £750 each.

The show committee also decided to provide something a bit different for the town's older generations.

Committee chairman David Doughty said: "We are also paying for a singer to entertain our elderly in local residential care homes."

Appeal after youth beaten up by group of men

A YOUNG man had his tooth knocked out when he was beaten with a baseball bat on Haverhill's Recreation Ground on Saturday.

At around 11.45pm, the 19-year-old victim was near to the recreation ground's play area when he was attacked by a group of men.

The youngster was beaten with a baseball bat, punched and kicked to the ground, left with facial bruising, a swollen left eye and a knocked-out tooth.

Two men have since been arrested on suspicion of assault causing ABH.

A 19-year-old and a 45-year-old, both from Haverhill, were taken to Bury St Edmunds Police Investigation Centre.

They have now been released on bail, and will return to the Police Investigation Centre on November 8, pending further enquiries.

Police are appealing for witnesses.

Call Haverhill Police on 101 if you have any further information about the attack.

Baby bunting gets seal of approval from Wills and Kate

BABY BLUE:
The playgroup got a thank you letter and family photo
from the palace.

A VERY special letter was waiting for a playgroup's pupils when they returned from the summer holidays.

Children from Linton Granta Playgroup, based at Linton Village College, prepared for the arrival of Prince George of Cambridge by colouring some bunting to decorate his new nursery.

The budding artists made a choice of pink and blue, and anxiously waited for the baby's arrival. Then, the group posted their offering to the palace... the blue one, of course.

Deputy leader Janine Polley said: "We explained there was going to be a new prince or princess and the children coloured in some bunting."

"We packed it up, and sent it off and we came into the new term and opened our letter."

As well as a thank you letter there was also a photograph of the happy family. Janine said: "It was nice that they had acknowledged the time the children had taken – we were very touched."

Mum slims down and will now help others

DEBRA FOX

WHEN a young mum failed to smile at her own wedding photos she decided to make a change.

Now, two-and-a-half stone lighter, with some stunning pictures as a bridesmaid and a renewed love for sport, Keeley Upton is thanking Slimming World for her success.

The 29-year-old enjoyed the eating plan so much, she has decided to become a consultant.

Keeley, of Chainey Pieces, Haverhill, said: "People need to know that being on a diet doesn't need to feel like it's the end of the world."

"I know how I felt when I looked at my wedding pictures and thought I don't want to feel like that anymore."

SLIM DOWN: Keeley before and after her weight loss.

Keeley joined Slimming World for the first time in 2011 and dropped from 12 stones to 10 stones and 10 lbs. She re-joined in February this year after her son Noah, now 1, was born.

Now, Keeley is 6lbs from her target weight of 10 stones.

The 29-year-old says that the whole family now enjoy Slimming World meals, instead of takeaways and junk food and Keeley also plays for Cambridge-based netball team Thundercats.

After feeling slimmer, fitter and healthier than ever before, Keeley jumped at the chance to be a bridesmaid at best friend Aimee's wedding. The way she felt looking at the photos made up for being disappointed with the pictures from her dream day.

She said: "When the photos came back I felt so proud of my achievements, my friends and family couldn't believe the change in me."

Keeley's group in Fulbourn will launch on Monday, September 30, at 5.30pm and 7.30pm at The Swifts, Haggis Gap.

Call 07599 960 013 for more information.

National theatre goes local as plays come to town

THREE West End smashers are coming to Haverhill for the theatre season.

Hamlet, Frankenstein and Alan Bennett's The Habit of Art will hit the big screen at the town's arts centre, starting on Halloween.

Frankenstein, directed by Danny Boyle and starring Benedict Cumberbatch will be the first performance from 7pm.

Arts and Leisure manager Nick Keeble said: "Our audiences really feel like they are getting a genuine theatre experience, seats can be reserved in advance and once the performance starts the audience are transported to the National Theatre. They forget they are watching it on the screen and it's not unusual to hear a round of applause at the end."

Hamlet is on November 2 and The Habit of Art is on November 7. To book call 01440 714140 or go to www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk.

Magpas makes landing in school playground

AN AIR ambulance landed in a school playground to help a man suffering from cardiac arrest.

The Magpas Helimedix air ambulance arrived at 12.15pm on Sunday, to treat the patient who was in his 40s.

A paramedic from the East of England Ambulance Service was already on the scene.

The Helimedix team anaesthetised the man, before accompanying him in a land ambulance to Papworth Hospital. The patient was said to be in a serious but stable condition on arrival.

Magpas volunteer paramedic Steve Chambers said: "We would like to thank the EEA Ambulance paramedic who was also at the scene."

"He worked brilliantly and was extremely helpful."

What a great night out for the girls!

WELL what can I say? Girls Night Out 2013 smashed all the records – again. 1,036 ladies signed up to take part in either the 11.2 or six mile routes on 14 September, and between them they raised in excess of £105,000. The vision of them leaving Angel Hill in their flashing bunny ears was incredible and emotional. They were supported by more than 150 route marshals and many other volunteers, and were entertained by local people who gave their time for free.

I consider myself very fortunate to live in an area with such a wonderful and supportive community: from those who came to help, to the residents who cheered and waved, and the cars that were patient and who beeped their horns.

There are so many to thank, but special mention goes to Redbourne Engineering for sponsoring many of the event costs, Asda for all the food and drinks on the night, St Edmundsbury Borough Council, Suffolk Police, St John Ambulance, Really Rather Good coffee house, CEG Productions, Hannah Richbell, Glenmoriston Pipe Band, the Silvermist Majorettes, Jade Donno, Serena Grant, Eine Kleine Sax Band, Liam and DJ the water boys, Petrus Wine Bar, Matalan, HSS Speedy Hire, KPO Osteopaths, Heart FM, Calor Gas, Arco, Peter Smith, Brian Rowson, the local Rotary, Lions and Round Table groups, West Suffolk Wheelers and, of course, the local media.

Thank you to all of the ladies who put their best foot forward to support their local hospice and to everyone who has sponsored them. We will be doing it all over again next year, and hope to see you then!

Alzheimer's Day as part of a month of action to raise awareness about this devastating disease. Did your readers know that there are currently over 820,000 people with dementia in the UK and over 270,000 in London and the South East alone? It is estimated that one person in three over the age of 65 will die with a form of dementia and, as the population ages, this number can only increase. There will be over a million people with dementia by 2021.

Caring for a loved one with dementia can be a lonely, stressful experience. The feeling of disconnection is hardest to bear. There may be precious moments of clarity, when memories briefly return and the years roll away, but for the most part carers have to watch their loved ones drifting slowly away.

So many carers are in desperate need of respite, but opportunities to be relieved of the caring role for even a short time are few and far between. Over a third of carers have never been able to take a break since they started caring.

What's worse, our own research shows that six out of ten carers are overwhelmed with feelings of guilt about the putting the person they care for into respite care, even for just a few days. Some carers are so consumed by worry that they end up not taking any respite at all, but simply struggle on at home, risking ill-health and complete breakdown in the process.

I work for a charity called Vitalise. We run the Jubilee Lodge centre in Chigwell, which provides essential respite breaks for people with disabilities and carers from the region. Each year many hundreds of people take desperately-needed breaks with us.

We regularly have special weeks for people with Alzheimer's and dementia and their partners – there are some coming up in January. Relieved of all their care worries, carers can regain their strength and reconnect with their loved ones. They tell us that their breaks with us often make the difference between coping and despair.

If you or someone you care about is affected by Alzheimer's or dementia and you would like to know more about Vitalise, please call 0303 303 0145 or visit www.vitalise.org.uk.

Crem Recruitment holds jobs fair day

MORE than 100 people flocked to Haverhill Arts Centre yesterday to improve their job prospects. Haverhill-based recruitment agency Crem Recruitment spent the day offering visitors information on the latest vacancies, as well as handing out CV tips.

The free-of-charge event had everyone from senior management staff to university leavers come along to take advantage of Crem's renowned advice.

Operations manager Kate Wright said: "We had some really good candidates and lots of people looking for jobs and even a couple of interviews. "It was a very successful turn out. I think Haverhill needed a job fair, and that's come across in everyone who's attended."

A new Crem Recruitment office has recently opened in Cambridge's Vision Park and the company are committed to extending their helping hand.

Call the Haverhill office on 01440 708833 or the Cambridge office on 01223 257745. You can also email jobs@cremrecruitment.co.uk or visit www.cremrecruitment.co.uk

CLEAN UP:
The area of land near to Bedford Court.

'We're fed up with fighting this on our own'

A RESIDENTS' group has hit out at their housing provider for not looking after them properly.

Members of the Keep It Clean and Safe residents' association (KICS), based around Clements Close, Old Clements Lane, Montfort Court, Bedford Court, Beaconsfield Court, Clayhive Drive and Clements Drive in Haverhill, say they have been taken for a ride by housing providers Orbit.

Chairman of KICS Micka Guerit said they are fed up with extra charges and are tired of dealing with problems themselves.

She said: "We had to create KICS because the people we pay a fortune to every month don't care."

"We have to work extra hours, on top of our full time jobs, because the people we pay can't even follow their own procedures."

KICS had to cope with anti-social behaviour problems and fighting in the neighbourhood for eight months.

Residents were threatened, and some even forced to move out because living in the area became so unbearable.

Each flat is rented by a private landlord, but they in turn have a lease agreement with Orbit.

Micka, of Clements Close, says that though Haverhill police and town council got on board and tried to help, Orbit still refused to act.

DEBRA FOX

She said: "Communication with Orbit is impossible and we pay them for services we do not get."

A spokeswoman for Orbit said they had not been told of any recent incidents, and that they were "proactive in their management of Clements Close".

The most recent trouble that the group are battling is related to a piece of land near to Bedford Court, that Micka says residents are being charged for as part of their gardening budget, despite it not being included in the deed.

Micka said: "We pay £66.88 per person a year. For 12 flats this is £802.56 – and this included the piece of land at the end of the road."

KICS complained to Orbit about the charge, and insisted that they maintain the land.

Now, the housing provider has allegedly promised each flat in Clements Close a £31 refund.

An Orbit spokeswoman said: "Initially we were unaware that we owned the area of land near Bedford Court, therefore it was not included in our gardening contract, and residents at Clements Close were not charged for its upkeep."

"When local Mayor, Councillor Andre, highlighted residents' concerns about the land, asking us to investigate whether it belonged to Orbit and to clear and arrange for its upkeep if so, we checked and confirmed that it was ours."

"We have since cleared the land and added it to our regular gardening contract. As this increases the cost of the contract, residents will be required to cover the nominal additional cost of £1.36 per resident per month."

"Our Leasehold Services Officer is in regular contact with residents, carries out bi-monthly estate inspections, and has recently visited more frequently to meet with Councillor Andre regarding queries about the land."

"Residents are always invited to the estate inspections."

If you want to join the association, contact Micka via kics.cb9@hotmail.co.uk. You can also follow them on Twitter @KICSCB9.

Remember to pop the kettle on

CHARITY coffee mornings will be taking place tomorrow to raise money and awareness for Macmillan Cancer Support.

Shoppers can visit Macmillan-themed events in Haverhill's Queens Square or Kedington's Royal British Legion Hall.

Volunteers at Kedington have raised £1,100 at each of their coffee mornings in the last two years, and Debbie Rawlings, of Cuts Unlimited, Haverhill, wants the Haverhill team to beat last year's total of £925.

Debbie said: "We were really busy last year and it was great."

"This year I'm hoping to raise £1,200 – that's my target."

Visit the Kedington event between 10am and midday, and visit Haverhill for a cuppa between 9.30am and 4pm.

BLESSINGS: Some of the visitors to the pet service at St Mary's church

Giving thanks for all creatures great and small

MAN'S best friend was honoured in an annual service, held for the first time at a Haverhill church.

St Mary's pet service was held on Sunday, September 15, and more than 50 parishioners attended to give thanks –
accompanied by the family pet.

The church, on Mill Road,
played host to dogs, cats,
shrimp, chickens and rats - not to mention the resident bats

who live in the church's belfry.

Visitors enjoyed music, as well as an animal-themed slideshow presentation before pets and owners alike received a blessing.

The event was led by Rev.
Manette Crossman and Captain Andrew Payne.

Ex-landlord on trial for child abuse

A FORMER pub landlord has been described as a "Jekyll
and Hyde" character
after being accused of 19 sex offences.

Peter Lee, 75, of Lords
Lane, Heacham, pleaded not guilty to 13
offences of indecent assault on a girl aged
under 16 and six offend-
es of gross indecency
with a girl aged under 16.

The offences are alleged to have occurred between 1972
and 1981, when Lee was living in Deans Close, Haverhill, and later at the Woolpack, on Queen Street, where he was landlord.

A jury at Ipswich
Crown Court were told on Monday, September

DEBRA FOX

23, that there were also specimen charges
relating to a much larger number of alleged
offences against the 75-year-old.

Charles Myatt, prosecuting, hailed Lee as a
"Jekyll and Hyde" character, who was a bully
behind closed doors.

He said: "He had a
public front as the life
and soul of any situation, everyone got on
with him, but behind the scenes he was a
physical and sexual bully."

The two girls, who are now in their late forties
and early fifties respectively, contacted police in January after the media storm surrounding the Jimmy Savile

allegations.

The older of the two women said in evidence that the abuse
started when she was nine and carried on
until she was 15.

She said that Lee
touched her sexually on a weekly basis, and she was also forced to touch him.

The 75-year-old allegedly warned the girl
not to tell anyone, and called the abuse "our little secret".

Lee told police he did not know why the girls
had lied about him, Mr
Myatt said.

The former pub landlord has continued to deny the allegations.
The trial continues.

Your say on turbine plans

THE applicants proposing to build a wind
turbine at Nosterfield End, Haverhill, will attend a town council
meeting.

Angela and James Sills will attend the
planning committee
meeting on October 1
to update councillors
and residents on their plans.

The potential turbine
has been criticised
across town with complaints flooding in
about noise, cost and
damage to other buildings.

Haverhill Town
Council's main concern came from an
objection made by the National Air Traffic
Services (NATS),
which said the turbine
could have an affect on radar.

Their objection has now been withdrawn.

The town council's comments also included the visual impact of the turbine and measurements.

Home donation

A GENEROUS care
home has given prize
money away to charity.

Place Court Care
Home, Haverhill,
donated £100 to St
Nicholas Hospice Care
after scoring top marks
in a survey.

The care home, operated by Care UK,
scored 100 per cent in a
satisfaction survey
and were given £100 to donate to the charity of their choice.

Manager Becky Abbink said that they chose St Nicholas Hospice because of the top quality care they provide across West
Suffolk and Thetford.

She said: "I hope the money will go a little
way to helping those who use the Hospice
and their loved ones."

Jordan Hughes, St
Nicholas Hospice Care
Community Fundraiser,
said: "Thank you to Care UK
for thinking of the Hospice."

Fire strike

OFFICERS across Suffolk took part in a reduced fire service
during yesterday's strike.

Service was disrupted between 12-4pm,
and 20 of the county's 35 stations stayed
open.

Assistant chief fire
officer, Mark
Sanderson, said that the focus remained on protecting the public.

Mr Mpmah, of Haverhill, says that years spent coaching businesses have helped him identify factors that stand in the way of growth.

The Summit meetings, which will take place four times a year, will help entrepreneurs overcome their obstacles.

Mr Mpmah said: "We have designed Business Mastery Summit to make business expectations a reality for ambitious entrepreneurs and business executives."

The support system will include workshops, presentations and networking opportunities provided by experienced coaches and after each session participants will be provided with a success plan, to lead up until the next meeting.

The Business Mastery Summit is for those who have been in business for at least three years, and are recording annual revenue of more than £100,000.

The CEO said: "Everything we teach is the practical strategy we're implementing in our own successful business. These strategies are designed to work for ambitious, busy, entrepreneurs and business executives that want to create 10x possibilities for their business, regardless of their industry or sector."

To apply for the scheme, visit www.cognitionglobal/business-mastery-summit.

Though the Summer months seem to be behind us ThurLOW Garage are still offering fantastic prices on Servicing and MOTs on motorbikes, so if you are a bike enthusiast give ThurLOW Garage a call today to have your pride and joy tuned up before its tucked up for the winter.

ThurLOW Garage pride themselves on the level of customer service that they offer. If Ray is in the workshop and Naomi is in the office then you'll be greeted by the friendly and efficient Michael Parsons. With over 25 years in the industry Michael is well positioned to explain the issues with your vehicle without confusing you with industry jargon.

ThurLOW Garage realise being without your car for any period of time is inconvenient – to overcome this issue a number of courtesy cars are available on request. If you're not able to deliver the vehicle, a collect and return service is also available. So don't put it off any longer, book your vehicle in now on 01440 783248.

Husband and Wife duo Ray and Naomi Sharrod, took the reins of the well established ThurLOW Garage back in 2008. The garage specialises in servicing and MOT's for all makes of car – but do not be blinkered into thinking that this is their full list of services. Any mechanical work can be undertaken on site, from major mechanical issues or that little knocking noise that just won't go away – the team at ThurLOW Garage will investigate and repair all of your

Brewing up for forces charity

DEBRA FOX

AN ARMY wife is hoping to turn a simple cuppa into a big pot of money.

Nicola Rogers, 44, will be brewing up at Castle Manor Academy, Haverhill, on October 13 in honour of national armed forces charity SSAFA.

The 44-year-old, of Mallow Walk, decided to hold her fundraiser to give back to the charity, which not only supports serving members, but veterans and their families too.

Nicola's husband Alan, 49, has been a serving member of the territorial army for 25 years and has completed three tours of duty in Iraq, Kosovo and Cyprus.

She said: "They are vital. If you need help they are there and they are great."

Alan is currently at home working in property maintenance, but still attends training sessions and can be called up at any time to help.

Nicola wants to raise as much as she can for the charity to thank them for the support they give to everyone involved with the armed forces.

She's currently searching for

KETTLE ON: Nicola and Alan Rogers

volunteer cake-makers, or those who are willing to make donations to the raffle.

The 44-year-old said: "I've got all of the tea and coffee donated, and money coming in for the milk, sugar and squash - I need bakers."

If you want to make a donation to the Big Brew Up or get involved with cake-making please call Nicola on 07932275036.

The event is on from 11am until 2pm.

10 year anniversary

Celebrate with C&B Beautiful

INDEPENDENT beauty salon C&B Beautiful is proud to be celebrating its 10th anniversary this month. The salon, based in Haverhill, is a thriving local business with a large group of loyal customers.

To acknowledge this impressive achievement, C&B Beautiful is holding a celebration event on Saturday, October 5 at its Haverhill branch, located on 30-32 Queen Street. Anybody is welcome to attend the event where there will be free demonstrations of Eyelash Extensions in the salon and the chance to win a pampering prize, as well as exclusive discounts on the day.

This milestone comes soon after the Bury St Edmunds

ADVERTISING FEATURE

branch of C&B Beautiful launched a range of award-winning ESPA products and treatments earlier this year, a real coup for the team at C&B Beautiful who are dedicated to helping their customers look and feel amazing, while in Haverhill the ever-popular Clarins range evokes a sense of luxury and relaxation at the salon.

Caroline Grimes, co-owner of C&B Beautiful, explains: "10 years is a fantastic achievement for any business and we are thrilled to be celebrating our success. We have a loyal team, some of whom have been with us almost from the very beginning, and I am very grateful for their help in getting us to this stage. We are delighted to be celebrating a decade in the industry and would like to thank all of our customers for supporting us over the years."

Becky Denham, co-owner of C&B Beautiful, added: "We have seen many changes in the beauty industry over the past 10 years with new products and treatments which we have introduced into our salons, such as Crystal Clear beauty treatments that use microdermabrasion and oxygen to renew your skin. I can't wait to see what the next 10 years has in store for the beauty industry."

C&B Beautiful is a well-known business in the Suffolk area and has a loyal client base due to the excellent customer service and relaxing environment it provides. The salons in Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds stock a number of reputable brands including Clarins, ESPA, OPI and Fake Bake, among others.

For more information on the products, treatments, or to book an appointment with one of the C&B Beautiful team visit candb-beautiful.co.uk or call (01284) 747077.

Vapor Quip

Vapor Quip's popular e-cigarettes range

ADVERTISING FEATURE

The way ahead: E-cigarettes come in a variety of different tastes and flavours

IN recent years not only has the ban meant that there are less and less places where you are able to smoke cigarettes, but price rises have hit many smokers' pockets hard. Haverhill firm Vapor Quip might just have the solution you need.

From their shop in Recreation Road, Vapor Quip sell e-cigarettes, and the e-liquids that go with them. E-cigarettes, as the name suggests, are electronic cigarettes, that are refillable and rechargeable. They offer many benefits over the traditional cigarette.

Firstly, they are much cheaper to use. Purchasing the liquids needed to use them will cost the average smoker about 50p a day: a massive saving, when you consider that the average packet of cigarettes now costs between £7.50 and £9! They are also odourless. This means that they can be used indoors, and in locations where smoking a cigarette would either be banned or frowned-on. This also means that there are no "passive smoking" worries if you are enjoying your e-cigarette in company or with your family nearby.

That's not all though. A significant proportion of smokers who switch from traditional cigarettes to e-cigarettes find that they are able to give up smoking altogether: on average within about 10 months of changing over. Tim Faichney, who runs the Vapor Quip shop, says that this is due to the different concentrations of nicotine that are available in the e-liquids. As he explains, strengths vary, and go right down to a "zero nicotine" content, making e-cigarettes a great way to gradually wean yourself off the habit, while still giving yourself that all-important "something to do with your hands" that is also a part of most smokers' habits.

As well as traditional tobacco flavours, you can also enjoy your e-cigarette with liquids that come in a wide and exciting variety of tastes, from the best-selling mint flavours, to a selection of fruits such as raspberry, black-current and pineapple, or even a "Sweets and Desserts" range, which includes Apple Pie, Bounty and Caramel!

If you are thinking about switching from cigarettes to e-cigarettes, then Tim's shop is a must-visit. As the only actual e-cigarette shop in East Anglia, he is always delighted to help with advice, and the shop is well-stocked with the e-cigarettes themselves and their component parts (spares, batteries and chargers) as well as the great selection of liquids to go with them.

Visit Vapor Quip at Recreation Road, Haverhill, CB9 8BH or telephone them on (01330) 708671, and make the switch!

'Baby will be born out of love, not sadness'

STAYING POSITIVE: Jon and Sarah Smith who are expecting their baby this week. Top right, Jon and Sarah before the bike ride. They would like to thank the following businesses which have helped the cause: Mil-Ken Travel, SportsGadgets.co.uk, West End House, Ashco Building Services and The Green Man.

Joy turned to despair for Jon Smith when he was told he had terminal cancer just weeks after finding out he was going to be a father for the first time. But, despite this devastating illness, the 33-year-old is determined to remain positive for the sake of his expectant wife Sarah, and their unborn daughter. He tells Lydia Fallon his heart-breaking story.

Jon and Sarah Smith are just like any other expectant parents. Gifts from a recent baby shower cover their living room floor, Sarah radiates with that gorgeous mummy-to-be glow – buzzing with excitement as she rubs her burgeoning bump, and Jon is the epitome of a doting dad, his eyes lighting up when he talks about meeting his little girl.

But this has been far from your average pregnancy. Just weeks after the couple were left feeling on top of the world having discovered they were expecting their first child together, their lives came crashing down around them, when Jon – just 33 years of age – was given the news that every person dreads: he had cancer and it was terminal.

Fit, healthy, and with his whole life ahead of him, the news was simply incomprehensible. "It was the furthest thing from my mind," says Jon. "Cancer is for old people – that's what I always thought anyway. I just felt in shock, and you just try and think it's everything but what you've been told."

For a few months Jon had been experiencing some trouble going to the toilet. He was certain it wouldn't be anything serious, but went to see his GP for a check-up anyway. Jon's doctor tried to find out what was causing the problems; with no luck, he was eventually referred to a specialist at Hinchbrook.

It was February this year when Jon was diagnosed with rectal cancer, and told the tumour had also spread into his abdomen and lungs. This meant the cancer was terminal, and although chemotherapy would knock the tumours back, it would never get rid of them completely.

"It's really difficult to put into words how I felt when we were told. You feel really shocked and really sad, and then you think about death and bad stuff for the first few days, but then you kind of come out of it. It's like you hit a real trough and then start to climb out of it again."

"We just tried our best to look for the positives," Sarah adds.

Jon started chemotherapy almost straight away, describing it as a "world of pain". During those dark days, it was his daughter that kept him going. "She's been my strength," he smiles.

"You can't really describe chemo unless you've actually had it, but for me, the first three rounds were particularly bad. I was having it every fortnight and "At one point I had a massive temperature spike, and I ended up in hospital for four days. It was on that day I felt her kick for the first time.

"I had my hand there, and I felt it. I was at a real low ebb, and I just felt like everything was going to be OK. Just being able to feel her moving was amazing.

Throughout the pregnancy, Sarah and Jon, who live in Colne, near Huntingdon, have been determined to stay positive and enjoy the experience of becoming new parents as much as they can.

"You have your bad days, but I'm trying to focus on doing all the normal baby stuff," Jon says. "We've painted the nursery, packed the bag for the hospital, installed the car seat, and we're just trying to be normal for as long as we can."

"She's just like any other baby. It's not her fault she is going to be born into this, so we don't want it to affect her in any way," Sarah adds.

But planning for the future can be one of the hardest things. Jon could have months to live, or years – the doctors just don't know.

"Going back to the beginning, that's what you're desperate to hear: your first question is "How long have I got?... But they can't tell you because they don't know.

"It's one of the trickiest parts; I know this diagnosis is going to catch up with me at some point, but I don't know when that is going to be."

Do they ever feel anger at the hand life has dealt them? "I've not really ticked the anger box yet," says Jon.

"Occasionally we look at other people and think it's not fair. Why have I got this disease and that person who is really overweight and smoking non-stop is fine? But I've not really felt angry about it."

"There is no one to blame, I think we feel cheated – that's the best way of putting it," says Sarah.

But the couple have been able to find solace in a charity cycle ride which six of their closest friends organised to raise money for the Woodlands Centre at Hinchingsbrooke Hospital, the unit where Jon is being treated.

The group – who called themselves the Pinkery Pacers – made the 300 mile journey from a tiny village called Pinkery in Exmoor, to Colne, where the couple live.

"I found it quite overwhelming that they wanted to raise money on my behalf," says Jon.

"I think people feel a bit lost. They want to do something, but are not really sure what. But this has really helped me over the past month or two because I was able to be a little bit involved, and it's fun.

"I think we retreated into our shell a bit at first, you go into this insular world where you feel like you're dealing with your own problems.

"It wasn't until we went to a wedding a couple of months ago and saw everyone that I realised everyone is there waiting, you just need to give them a green light."

"People were waiting for us to make the first move," says Sarah. "We've always been open about talking about it, but the asking for help thing is hard.

"Everyone is there ready to go, but we didn't know quite what we needed."

Jon was unable to join the last stretch of the mammoth bike ride as he had been hoping but is full of praise for the unit they were riding for.

"The NHS gets bashed every day in the news but in my experience they have been unbelievable. The nurses in all the short-stay units are under so much pressure but they're so nice," he says.

Jon believes much more still needs to be done to raise awareness of cancer, particularly in men, and hopes that by sharing his experience, maybe more lives will be saved.

"Women are so much more aware, but men are just stupid – most wouldn't have even gone to the doctor with the troubles I had.

"I guess it's not the sort of thing you would discuss with your mates down the pub; anything below the chest and people don't want to talk about it. But I'm determined to talk about it, because it could save just one life."

In light of everything he's been through, I wonder if Jon's outlook on life has changed? "Completely," he says.

"I'm still the same person I was before in a lot of my beliefs and values, but the way I look at life is so different now – I value things so much more.

"When I was having chemo one of the little targets was just to get out of the house and have a walk around the village.

"It was spring, the birds were singing and the flowers were coming out. When you're in your 30s, you're kind of in this little bubble and don't notice those kind of things, but now we appreciate stuff, and realise things like money aren't important."

Sarah and Jon's baby girl is due this week, and although the future is uncertain, she is the ray of light keeping them going.

"We found out about this baby before all the bad stuff. She is going to be born out of love and happiness, and not sadness. We have been given the gift of life, and so many people don't even get that chance."

Is your Will worth the paper it's written on?

The government is considering proposals to regulate the practice of Will writing, following a request from the Legal Services Board. Due to a lack of regulation Will Writers with no technical qualifications, negligence insurance or continuity arrangements continue to practice Will Writing.

The Legal Services Board has encouraged regulation to reduce what the Board says are "significant risks that consumers currently face" when using unregulated Will Writers. The request by the Board is intended to bring regulation of Will Writers in line with that of Solicitors.

When people make Wills their aim is to reduce risk. A Will helps ensure that someone's estate will pass as they would wish after their death; providing support to families, friends and charities.

Anyone can set him or herself up as a Will Writer. The lack of restrictions on the business of Will Writing means that Will Writers have a lack of technical qualifications.

A properly drafted Will ensures property and assets are inherited by those you wish, allowing you to make provisions for children and express your funeral wishes. The consequences of a poorly drafted Will are significant and far-reaching.

These Will Writers provide Wills at competitive prices, charging from £85 for a single Will. The widespread use of hidden fees by Will Writers, such as review charges and storage fees, escalate this cost. Will Writers often quote around £20 per annum for storage of a Will at the National Wills Safe, while a local Solicitor will often store a Will free of charge.

It is during the process of estate administration that fraud and theft from estates can occur. The Law Society has warned that "consumers risk losing everything if they allow unregulated and unqualified Will Writers to have full control of their estate's assets".

Will Writing companies lack sufficient arrangements in place should the company cease trading, which may mean that your file is lost.

For true peace of mind please ensure that whoever writes your will is regulated by the professional governing body the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA). Solicitors are tightly regulated by the SRA, ensuring that wills are produced to the highest professional standards and worth the paper they are written on.

While Will Writing Companies are often members of the Institute of Professional Will Writers, this is not a regulatory body and cannot offer the same level of consumer protection as that provided by the SRA. This could leave you with nowhere to turn should things go wrong.

The unregulated service offered by Will Writers leaves the public unprotected from abuse in this vital area.

Text alerts to warn of emergencies

MASS text messages will be circulated across the county later this year in a bid to test the public's reaction to a large-scale emergency.

More than 50,000 people across Suffolk, Glasgow and Yorkshire will be part of a mobile phone alert pilot, taking place in November.

O2, Vodafone and EE have teamed up with the government to conduct tests on different technologies as a means of informing the public of an emergency.

The messages, which will relate only to fictional hazards, events and terror attacks, will also be used to judge public reaction and response.

Cabinet Office Minister Francis

DEBRA FOX

Maude wants to reassure the public that this is only a test.

He said: "We are also looking for help from the public in evaluating how well the tests worked and how they felt about receiving messages in this way and we would welcome the public's views which they can provide via an online survey or a series of focus groups."

The texts will be sent using cell broadcasting, which identifies every working mobile phone near to a specific network mast. The messages will only be sent to active mobile phones, identified by a mast in a designated test area.

Leiston has been confirmed as the test area for Suffolk, but other residents passing through at the time of the pilot could still receive a message.

Mr Maude said: "Ensuring that local areas receive quick accurate information in the event of an emergency is crucial to an effective response and the information that we receive from these tests will help us develop systems that local emergency responders will be able to use in the future."

Will you stop smoking for 28 days?

SMOKERS across Suffolk are being encouraged to kick the habit in a campaign championed by the Department of Health.

Live Well Suffolk are implementing the Stoptober scheme countywide, which challenges smokers to give up for 28 days, starting on October 1.

Stop smoking specialists from Live Well Suffolk have been touring the county to prepare smokers for the month ahead and visited Haverhill on September 13.

Steven Lee-Foster, Director of Live Well Suffolk, said that they hope to follow the success of last year's Stoptober event.

He said: "We know that it can be difficult but our trained advisors can give hints and techniques or dedicated stop smoking clinics for when willpower begins to slip."

For more information about Live Well Suffolk's range of stop smoking clinics visit www.livewellsuffolk.org.uk/stoptober or phone 01473 229292.

Feast of film

CAMBRIDGE Film Festival is now impressively in its 33rd year and is what you'd call firmly established as one of the highlights of the British movie calendar (no, it's not competing with Cannes quite yet, but one day) – and this year it's going all out.

British and world premieres are this week rubbing shoulders with classic revivals, heart-stopping documentaries, quirkily-themed strands, children's films, snappy shorts and a slew of live events, from director Q&As, panel discussions and actor appearances.

The festival finishes on Sunday. Events take place at the Arts Picturehouse, 38-39 St Andrew's Street, Cambridge, CB2 3AR, unless otherwise stated.

There are no adverts or trailers before festival screenings – be seated by the advertised time.

Tickets for all venues are available from the Arts Picturehouse Box Office on 0871 9025720 or at www.cambridgefilmfestival.org.uk.

Highlights still to come include two surprise screenings on Saturday at 1.15pm and Sunday at 2.45pm – you can only find out what they are by turning up. Previous Surprise Films have included premieres of Pixar's UP! and Pirates of the Caribbean. They always sell out so make sure to book.

Lost's Matthew Fox stars in Emperor, set in post Second World War Japan, on Saturday at 8.30pm, while the festival's 33 1/3 strand delves into music documentaries, with Shane Meadows' rock 'n' roll Stone Roses tribute, Made of Stone, also on Saturday.

On Sunday at 8.30pm there's a chat with award-winning director Kevin Macdonald, the man behind The Last King of Scotland, who will answer questions after this year's closing film, How I Live Now.

And if you fancy a scare, you can shriek your way through two terrifying film strands; FrightFest and Gothic on Tour, both running at Cineworld, featuring old and new horror from Nosferatu to Machete Kills.

Interview: Peter Webber

SET during the American occupation of Japan after the Second World War, Emperor stars Tommy Lee Jones as General Douglas MacArthur, the country's de facto ruler who assigns Matthew Fox, AKA General Bonner Fellers, to investigate whether the Japanese Emperor should be punished for war crimes. But Bonner is also on a mission of his own; to find a Japanese school teacher he loved before war broke out...

Ella Walker speaks to the director Peter Webber (director of Girl With A Pearl Earring and Hannibal Rising), about working with Tommy Lee Jones and braving his critics.

Can you start by explaining what made this a story you just had to tell?

I've always been very interested in Japan and Japanese culture. I think it's an interest that started when I discovered the films of Kurosawa and Ozu when I was a teenager. Also the thing that made me really interested in this particular subject matter was that it seemed very metaphorical for what was going on today. It's a way I could tell a story from the past that had some resonance in the present – it's about regime change, the battle between justice and revenge. And I had always wanted to work with Japanese actors and do a film set in Japan; this seemed like a very good opportunity.

Considering the plot is based on true events, did you feel a responsibility to the real people portrayed?

Yes, but you also have to balance that against responsibility to the audience. You can be tugged in different directions. There's obviously been an awful lot of films, not about this particular subject – this is a post-war film rather than a war

Emperor is showing on Saturday at 8.30pm film – but about the Pacific War, and overwhelmingly they've put the American point of view. I felt it'd be interesting to tell a tale where you would hear what the Japanese had to say.

What made you pick Matthew Fox for the lead role?

I was looking for someone who was the modern day equivalent of Gary Cooper. Quite an old fashioned, strongly morally centred, very masculine kind of a figure, and it just seemed to me Matthew Fox was perfect for that. He has some of that 1950s leading man about him.

What was it like working with Tommy Lee Jones? Is he as intimidating as he comes across?

It's scary to begin with, because he comes with a big reputation, he can be quite daunting but actually he's great to work with. He's super smart and underneath that rather gruff exterior, beats a heart of pure gold (Peter breaks off laughing). But it is a very gruff exterior. Emperor has been considered a critical and commercial flop in America. What do you think of its reception so far?

I was particularly pleased with the way it's gone down in Japan. It's been very successful in Japan, I think it's just passed the £12m box office mark, so that was important to me, that people went to see it over there.

I got a couple of good reviews from my two favourite reviewers – Rex Reed and Roger Ebert. There's obviously bad reviews out there as well, I'm choosing to ignore those.

What do you want people to take from the film?

I hope they enjoy it, I hope it makes them understand a bit about how enlightened American foreign policy used to be; I think it casts an interesting light, especially with current events. It's very important to remember and understand history. I hope really that they'll be plunged into a strange, mysterious and fascinating world and really learn something about a period of history that hasn't been told before.

■ OTHELLO will be shown live from the National Theatre onto our cinema screen tonight at 7pm. Olivier Award-winning actor Adrian Lester takes the title role with fellow Olivier Award winner Rory Kinnear as his duplicitous adversary Iago. There are only a few tickets left, don't miss out, call the Box Office to avoid disappointment.

■ I LOVE THE 60s featuring Sounds Force 5, with special guest stars Abbie Matthews, Jason Lunn and 60s hit recording legend Wayne Fontana, who had hits such as Pamela Pamela and Groovy Kinda Love with his backing group The Mindbenders, are with us on Thursday 3 October at 8pm.

■ Due to popular demand, JOHN ETHERIDGE one of the world's most respected guitarists, returns to the Arts Centre on Friday 4 October at 8pm and is joined by the Hannah Horton Quartet. Not only was John the guitarist for the celebrated jazz violinist Stephane Grappelli, he plays in a duo with the eminent classical guitarist John Williams and has performed with such greats as Andy Summers, Dizzy Gillespie and Nigel Kennedy. He will be joined by Hannah Horton and her quartet: John Crawford on piano, Rob Statham on bass and Charlie Price on drums.

Green therapy

WE ALL feel better after an hour or two of gardening; the fresh air, the exercise and the simple joy of being surrounded by beautiful flowers and the fruits of our labour.

But for some people, the benefits go even further.

"A garden can help people living with dementia," says Jeremy Hughes, Alzheimer's Society chief executive. "They can enjoy socialising, as well as taking part in physical activity and stimulating the senses, all of which greatly improve their wellbeing."

The regularity of nurturing plants on a daily basis also adds structure to the day of those living with dementia, while being involved in gardening activities like sowing seeds and watering plants gives a better sense of control, the society says. The cycle of sowing, nurturing, growing and harvesting plants, vegetables and flowers helps give a better perception of their lives. Also, the delicate nature of some gardening activities can help to maintain or improve fine motor skills and increase spatial awareness.

Garden activities can also help those with dementia talk about their past lives by reminding them about similar activities when they were younger, for example what plants, flowers or vegetables they used to grow.

Research shows that gardening can also help the wellbeing of younger people with early onset dementia.

"Younger people with dementia want and need activities which are stimulating, fulfilling and productive because they are still seeking activities which mimic the workplace model," says Jill Walton, support group co-ordinator at the Frontotemporal Dementia Support Group (www.ftdsg.org), which provides support and information to carers of young people with dementia.

Thrive, a national charity supporting horticultural therapy, holds a database of around 900 garden projects in the UK and can put you in touch with a project in your local area (www.thrive.org.uk or 0118 988 5688).

These larger projects are clearly wonderful, but for many people, gardening at home is where the real therapy lies. Indeed, recent research by the Alzheimer's Society, in partnership with Homebase, discovered 83% of people with dementia want to live in their own homes for as long as possible; so how can you create a home garden, or modify an existing one, to give people with dementia the greatest therapy?

Thrive recommends straightforward way-finding: the layout of paths – essentially a loop – could take the visitor on a journey and return them to the starting point, while specimen trees and features such as pergolas, sculptures, bird tables and large pots can act as landmarks.

Create a series of places to sit, with focal points to look at. These should also be protected from bright sunlight, chilling winds and deep shade, perhaps introducing a canopy or a parasol to prevent exposure to the elements.

Use gentle changes rather than strong contrasts. For example, avoid strong shadows on paths, which might look like holes, abrupt changes in paving materials which may look like steps, or reflective materials which might look like water. These might give rise to general confusion and agitation and also present fall hazards.

When adding a walkway, Alzheimer's Society (www.alzheimers.org.uk) recommends paths which are constant, such as a figure of eight, as paths with abrupt endings can disorientate people with dementia.

Stimulate all of the senses all year round with colourful, fragrant plants and flowers, water features and wind chimes.

Scents can often create memories, so introduce plants to the garden that have great smells, such as lavender, rosemary, mint or thyme.

Sensory experience can be increased through introducing plants which are soft to touch such as lambs' ears or bunny tails, an ornamental grass which is soft and fluffy.

Of course, it's wise to remove dangerous plants as dementia sufferers may not recall which plants are poisonous or irritate their skin. Similarly, any plants with thorns or which may sting should be removed from the garden altogether.

If new plants are needed, select these with the person living with dementia. They may have favourites which bring back memories of happy times. Go to the garden centre and let the dementia sufferer physically handle the plants, flowers and gardening items which may trigger memories more effectively than looking at pictures.

For many of us, gardening is an enjoyable pastime – but for others, it's a lifeline.

KevinHenry are now
your local estate agent
in Haverhill

Open 7 days a week

Open longer than the competition to increase the chances of selling your property.

When you get home

Contactable when you finish work, not when it suites us.

Accompanied viewings 7 days a week

So buyers will not slip through our hands.

Buyers not on other agents books

Most buyers come from more expensive areas - Saffron Walden and the South. We are members of the Relocation Agent Network with agents in Great Dunmow, Bishops Stortford and Harlow. We have over 50 agents in the Greater London Area. Historically, a large number of people living in Haverhill have come from these areas.

Personal service

'We never hear from our agent'. You won't be able to say that about Jodie. Contactable 7 days a week and after office hours, she will keep you right up to date about what viewers thought, and will keep you fully informed about what's being done to sell your property. You won't get a better level of dedicated personal service anywhere.

Years of experience

KevinHenry have sold more houses than any agent in Saffron Walden for 25 years and bring that expertise to Haverhill. With 19 members of staff on your team, acting for you.

Web coverage

Rightmove, Zoopla, Relocation Agent Network, our own site plus others.

Presentation

From colour photos, floor plans, comprehensive details to advertising at least 3 times in the first 5 weeks, your property will look great.

Going the extra mile

Nobody will try harder than Jodie and her back up staff at head office to get you the best price and help you move with the least amount of stress and hassle.

Local girl Jodie Miller has joined the KevinHenry team, bringing with her a wealth of local knowledge and estate agency expertise in Haverhill and the surrounding area. Since opening in 1988, KevinHenry have sold more houses each year than any other agent in Saffron Walden and Jodie Miller is delighted to be joining such a successful team. Both Kevin Moll and Henry Rowe see her arrival as completing an unbeatable offering for the people of Haverhill. 28 year old Jodie was brought up in neighbouring Kedington and lives, with her family, in Haverhill where her 2 children go to school. She also plays netball for Haverhill Ladies. Jodie has worked in estate agency for several years both in Haverhill and Cambridge. This means that the local community now has a local estate agent offering a knowledgeable personal service, seven days a week. With a large number of buyers coming from the more expensive areas, Saffron Walden and the south, Kevin Henry are able to bring you buyers other agents don't have. We are members of the Relocation Agent Network with 600 offices nationwide including Bishops Stortford, Great Dunmow and Harlow with over 50 offices in the Greater London Area alone. Not only will we be able to find you the buyers, Jodie will be able to offer a 7 day a week service including being contactable after office hours and a level of attention that you simply won't get anywhere else.

JODIE MILLER, Haverhill Area Manager

Your Guide to Moving Home

Moving home can be a complicated business and in the hectic run up to the big day it is all too easy to forget something vital. The team offers their readers this handy checklist to help avoid any major pitfalls. We suggest you tick them off as you go....

1 4-2 WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – start packing and sorting through your belongings. Now is a good time to de-clutter and pack items rarely used. Make sure you have plenty of sturdy boxes, bubble wrap and sticky tape.
- ☐ Removal companies – get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Insurance – check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Utilities – make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move. Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Telecommunications – Notify your telephone and broadband provider and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone and broadband facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Post – Look into re-directing your post for a few months to make sure you receive all relevant correspondence.
- ☐ Children – Look into the possibility of your children, especially young children, staying with family or friends on the day of the move.
- ☐ Pets – Make arrangements for any pets to be booked into a cattery or kennels if required. Having your pets microchipped is a good idea and if already microchipped, have the address changed to your new one. Your vet can advise on this.

2

Change of address – tell companies and organisations that you are moving!

Notify:

- ☐ Employer
- ☐ Inland revenue
- ☐ Local council
- ☐ Banks or Building Societies
- ☐ Credit companies, store cards & other accounts
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and water boards
- ☐ Insurance companies
- ☐ Land / mobile phones
- ☐ Internet and cable / satellite TV providers
- ☐ Doctor, Dentist and Opticians
- ☐ DVLA
- ☐ Veterinary surgery
- ☐ TV Licensing

3

1 WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Delivery address – change delivery address of your Cambridge News, milk, groceries and fuel to your new address as appropriate.
- ☐ Laundry – do any last minute laundry that you can – have you arranged for a plumber to disconnect your washing machine correctly?

- ☐ Kitchen cupboards – go through your kitchen cupboards and throw out anything not in date. Also check that all jars and bottles are correctly sealed before packing.
- ☐ Fridges / Freezers – empty and clean out in preparation for moving. If you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.
- ☐ Valuables / documents – put these in safe place for moving day

4 2-1 DAYS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – pack a bag for overnight essentials and toiletries and finish all remaining packing into boxes. Remember to label which room each box is destined for.
- ☐ Snack box – pack a box for the kitchen to include essentials like tea, coffee and sugar, as well as the kettle and mugs! Also include other snacks as necessary.
- ☐ Dismantle and disconnect – take down curtains, fixtures and fittings and disconnect white goods ready for transport.
- ☐ Outdoor items – make sure that these are stacked together and ready to be moved.
- ☐ Mobile – place your mobile on charge the night before moving and ensure that all relevant people have your number.

5 ON MOVING DAY:

AT YOUR OLD ADDRESS:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Finish packing toiletries box.
- ☐ Direct removal firm personnel or friends helping you move as to what needs to be done.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler / central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Make final checks and leave key as arranged with new owners.

AT YOUR NEW HOME:

- ☐ Open up & have a look around the new house.
- ☐ Locate fuse box, gas and electric meter and stop cock for reference.
- ☐ Take readings on gas, electric and water meters as appropriate.
- ☐ Organise the direction of boxes to appropriate rooms.
- ☐ Check the van after all is unloaded.
- ☐ Make the beds up for the evening.
- ☐ Sit down and relax – unpack the other boxes the next day.

dine out for £10

FEELING hungry? Our ever-popular Dine Out for £10 promotion has returned, in association with our sister paper, the Cambridge News. The offer, which runs until November 6, 2013, gives you the chance to enjoy great value meals out at the host of pubs and restaurants listed below. Whether you fancy a tasty steak, a fabulous fish dish or a vegetarian feast, there will be something for you with our mouth-watering offer.

HOW TO TAKE UP THE OFFER

1 Collect three tokens – of which two MUST be from those being published regularly in the Cambridge News.

The third can also be from the News, or taken from this newspaper. Alternatively, visit cambridge-news.co.uk/Dine-Out-for-10 or visit the homepage and click on Lifestyle>Food and Drink to print off a bonus token. You'll also find a full guide to the venues taking part, including the times and days of the week when the offer is valid.

2 Phone to book a place at your chosen restaurant, stating that you wish to take advantage of the 'Dine Out for £10' offer. Please note, the venues are running the offer at certain times and days of the week.

3 Present your tokens as you order your food. Three tokens entitle two people to dine for £10 EACH on the special Cambridge News menus – excluding drinks. If more than two people are dining you'll need more tokens: six for 3-4 people, nine for 5-6 people etc.

TERMS &amp; CONDITIONS

Offer is subject to availability. Offer runs until November 6, 2013. Those failing to present the correct number of tokens will not be entitled to use the offer. Photocopies will not be accepted. Issues concerning food or service should be taken up with the venue concerned.

WE GOT TOGETHER AND NOW YOU CAN JOIN US!

Peter Brett Associates LLP (PBA) is an independent consulting practice of; engineers, planners, scientists, economists and property professionals. With development and infrastructure at the core of our business, we provide trusted advice to create value from the land and buildings owned or operated by our clients. Together, we create better places for the communities in which we work. To help us achieve this we are looking to recruit more great people to join us in helping to provide our clients with innovative solutions and deliver our projects effectively. Following our acquisition of Hannah, Reed and Associates Ltd, we are looking to expand our Project Management and Civil Engineering teams in our office in Cambridge, and are seeking enthusiastic, experienced and motivated individuals looking to make that next career move.

Project Management Opportunities (PMHR1)

We are looking for Project Managers at all levels, with a minimum requirement of three years' relevant experience. The successful candidates will work on a varied project portfolio and will be involved through all stages of the project management process from; feasibility, concept and design, through to contractor procurement, site project management and handover.

The ideal candidates will have experience of delivering both the technical and commercial aspects across a range of complex (and sometimes multi-disciplinary) projects, whilst managing and ensuring collaboration across a number of different teams to ensure the effective delivery of our projects and our clients' expectations. As the majority of our projects are procured following a two-stage tender process (with contracts established using the NEC Engineering and Construction Contract), experience in this form of procurement will be essential.

We would like to hear from you if you have a strong track record of delivery across both the private and public sectors and have worked with either a contractor or consultancy. You must also possess excellent communication skills, both written and oral, and should hold a relevant degree in Civil Engineering or Building Structures/Surveying. It is also preferable that your project management experience has covered high quality building projects, containing laboratories and/or higher education establishments.

Civil Engineering Opportunities (CVHR2)

We are also looking for Civil Engineers with a range of technical expertise at all levels to enhance our established civil engineering team for which we have a minimum requirement of one year's relevant experience. Successful candidates must be able to demonstrate a very high level of technical competence, preferably across a range of infrastructure disciplines, and have a track record in land development or regeneration, or a specialisation in highways or drainage.

Senior level applicants will also need to demonstrate a strong track record in delivering expert technical support and advice to clients and helping to mentor and develop their team. A strong commercial acumen and the ability to communicate effectively will also be expected for any senior roles.

We would like to hear from you if you are a technically competent road/highway and drainage designer, are familiar with the relevant Specifications, BS:EN's and Building Regulations, have experience with WinDes/MicroDrainage/Auto CAD 3D, possess excellent communication skills (both written and oral) and most importantly enjoy working with people who care about quality.

INTERESTED? All our roles come with a competitive salary and benefits package. If you would like to join us, please email your up-to-date CV to: work-for-us@peterbrett.com, quoting the relevant vacancy reference number as above or speak to Helen Doyle on 0118 952 0285. For more information on our vacancies and our exciting range of projects, please see our websites: www.peterbrett.com or www.hannahreed.co.uk. PBA is committed to a policy of Equal Opportunities.

Hannah, Reed and Associates Limited is now part of the PBA Group.

Wilkinson seals win with late spot kick

JACK Wilkinson's late penalty earned Haverhill Rovers a 3-2 victory over Ely in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

Adam Murray twice gave the Robins the lead with Rovers responding through Sam Holmes and Luke Parkinson before Wilkinson decided matters on Tuesday.

On Saturday, Haverhill Borough regained top spot in the First Division with a comfortable victory against their visitors from Downham.

Borough started well and took the lead after just four minutes. A pass from Tommy Hardwick set Owen Longley free, and his cross was volleyed into the back of the Downham net by striker Callum Harrison.

Downham's best chance of the half came from Matthew Calvert who headed over the Borough bar from a far-post cross in the 20th minute, although Borough responded almost immediately.

A Jon Welsh cross found Luke Strutton in the Downham penalty area, and although his first shot was blocked, he retrieved the ball before smashing it past Aaron Beales to double the hosts' lead.

As the half drew to a close, another Harrison shot produced a fine save from Beales, before, in the 44th minute, Ryan Weaver sprung the Downham offside trap and rounded Beales before his side-footed shot was cleared off the goal line.

Borough went three up after just 36 seconds of the second half, when Harrison netted his second after heading home a cross from Longley. A powerful Gavin Taylor header from a Weaver corner made it 4-0 two minutes later, before Downham gained a consolation goal when Adam Reeve turned in the Borough box and shot past Liam Cutts.

With still half an hour to go in the game, Borough then spurned a number of opportunities to increase their goal difference. Longley had a shot saved by the feet of Beales in the 57th minute, before, after 74 minutes, Weaver was tripped in the penalty area following good interplay with Welsh.

Harrison then stepped up to attempt to score his hat-trick.

But his powerful shot was well saved by Beales down to his left-hand side.

Ton up: Gary Paffett celebrates his 100th race in DTM.

Paffett marks 100th DTM race with sixth-place finish

IT may not have been a place on the podium, but Gary Paffett was pleased to mark his 100th DTM race with a sixth-place finish at Oschersleben.

Paffett was the best of the Mercedes drivers as he used a strong start and superior pitstop strategy to climb his way up from 12th on the grid.

The 32-year-old Haverhill driver had originally qualified in seventh, but a team mistake which resulted in illegal use of a set of tyres meant he was given a five-place grid penalty.

The incident cost him a chance of a podium finish and he will be hoping for better fortune when the series resumes in Zandvoort this weekend.

"One hundred races is a lot and it's been great to have been competitive from the first to the last," he said.

"I've been consistently fighting for championship wins while I've been in DTM and I want to continue that.

"Given where I started the race, I was happy with the result. The penalty was fair enough. We didn't gain any advantage but there are situations where teams might be able to do so."

BMW's Augusto Farfus won the race. Mike Rockenfeller leads the standings with 124 points while Paffett, in sixth, has 65 and is now out of the title hunt.

Haverhill trio take charge to the nationals

JACK Bligh, Chris Vince and Michael Perrett represented Suffolk in the English Club Team Championship at Dunsbury.

The Haverhill trio qualified for the event during the Suffolk Amateur Championship in June.

Perrett shot 73 on the first day, Bligh fired 74 and Vince hit 79 and it was just the putts that failed to drop.

On the second day, Bligh and Perrett both hit 80s and Vince shot 78 to leave Haverhill 34th overall.

At the club, Bligh was clear winner of the IFF Challenge Stableford with his 40 points earning him a win in Division One by two points from Aaron Tokley, who pipped Andy Fish to second on countback.

Wayne Smith was first in Division Two with 34 points, one better than David Parsons. Michael Barham was third with 33.

Graham Hepworth was victorious in Division Three with 33, the same score as Patrick Bowes. Mark Wells was third with 31.

Haverhill's ladies' team of Sheila Price, Sarah Field, Marian Mercer, Judy Farren, Gill Richardson, Val Shipp, Doreen Darbey and Sally Price halved their friendly match at Newmarket.

And the ladies' team lost 2-1 to Newton Green in a friendly.

Jackie Condon and Ann Thompson lost 3&2, Sheila Price and Sally Price lost 4&3, Gerry Wheatley and Farren, and Mercer and Richardson halved their matches.

In a mixed friendly at Gosfield Lakes, Haverhill lost 357-347 to their hosts.

Wratting denied by late Marshall strike

A LATE goal from Cory Marshall meant West Watting were held to a 4-4 draw against Sawston United in BM Kempton 9v9 League, Division 12A.

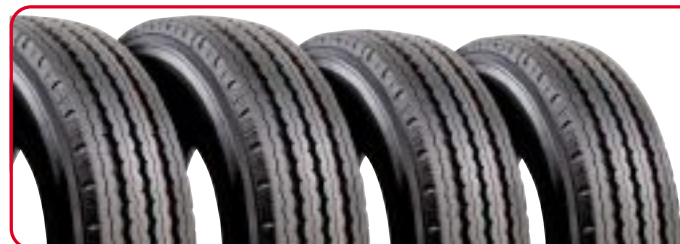

Josh Lee put Watting ahead after five minutes, with Stephen Lambert and Joshua Harvey responding to give the visitors the lead in the 26th minute.

Matthew Campbell added a third for Sawston, but an own goal allowed Watting back into the match before Finley Plant equalised for the home side.

Cameron Reid then put Watting back in front, only for Marshall to strike in the closing minutes and ensure the encounter finished all square.
